

ORTHOWELLNESS PUBLICATIONS PRIVACY POLICY

OrthoWellness Publications recognizes the importance of protecting the privacy of all information provided to us by our customers and visitors. This company policy has been created with a fundamental respect for our customer's right to privacy and serves to guide our relationships with our customers. This privacy statement discloses the practices for all products and services owned by OrthoWellness Publications.

Information Collection and Use

For every visitor to our web site, our web server automatically recognizes your Internet service provider, you cannot be identified as an individual. This includes which pages you visit and any feedback from our visitors. We carefully examine this information in order to make improvements to our site that will enhance your online experience. Further, we do not sell, rent, or exchange names or any other information about our web visitors with third parties.

Our web site may contain 'links' to other non-OrthoWellness Publications sites. It is also possible that non- OrthoWellness Publications web sites link into our web site. We are not responsible for the content or the privacy practices employed by those non- OrthoWellness Publications web sites.

Communications from Us: Product Offering Updates

OrthoWellness Publications from time to time may offer our users the option to receive information from our company about new titles that may become available in the future. Users can also choose not to receive these communications.

OrthoWellness Publications does not share personally identifiable information or any user contact information with any other parties except by law. We may from time to time share aggregate information, which is not personally identifiable, with others. This may include usage and demographic data, but it will not include personal information.
